FAQ's

Q – Is there a cancelation/refund policy?

A – If you have been confirmed as an exhibitor and need to cancel, please submit your cancellation request no later than three weeks before the event date. This deadline helps cover printing costs and venue table fees. Cancellations received within three weeks of the event are not eligible for a refund; however, you may send printed materials for us to display at your table, and your organization will still be recognized as an exhibitor.

Q - What can I expect as an Exhibitor on the day of the conference?

A – Registration starts at 7:45 am, though you can arrive as early as 7:15am. Find the registration table for exhibitors and you'll be led to your booth within the main room. The program begins at 8:45, so we'll ask that you are set up by then. Exhibitors will have access to the keynotes in the main room. During this time attendees will be seated and not networking, so you'll have downtime for yourself or to listen. There will also be downtime during the breakout sessions. You'll see the most traffic to your booth during our networking breaks and lunch. We will share agendas closer to the event date.

Q – What is Booth BINGO?

A – Booth BINGO is an activity we provide to attendees in their swag bag. They will take this Bingo Card and visit booths, complete the card and enter it into a draw to win a prize. Booth Bingo is designed to encourage attendees to visit booths, learn from each, receive resources and network. It's also a benefit to Exhibitors, as attendees are motivated to visit each booth. Exhibitors are able reach attendees from a variety of organizations in a variety of positions. We ask that Exhibitors stamp attendees Booth BINGO card, with a Bingo dabber that we provide.
